I apologize in advance, this might be a little long... My 21V has an Indmar Assault 325 engine. Never had any problems with it before this year. First time out this yer: when the engine has been running for at least 20 minutes, it will start to bog down - won't run over 2k rpm. It even backfires some. We thought it might be bad fuel, so changed the fuel filter, and replaced the gas.

Recently I was at the lake and left the key on in the boat. After doing this the starter would not engage. We tried boosting the boat with no luck. Took the boat in for service and they replaced the starter. The day that I picked up the boat and took it to the lake the starter is cranking the engine over, but the boat does not want to start.

Indmar recieved the ECM, and it had 30 fault codes. Every injector was showing timing issues and they said it was running so lean it basically drove the engine into the ground. This proved to the dealer he bought it from that the engine was toast, so now he doesn't have to send it in and they sent him a check to cover the new volvo engine.
